SURVEY RESPONDENTS

The spring 2009 Counting Opinions survey captured information from a variety of demographics, but an overwhelming majority of respondents were full time (96%) students and most respondents were undergraduate (80%) students.

Counting Opinions was released to the Wake Forest University community via the Z. Smith Reynolds Library website. 291 people submitted the survey though it was not marketed beyond an icon on the homepage. You will note that the charts within this document contain both red and blue columns. This is the standard output for the Counting Opinion results.

- The red columns refer to all data collected from the first day of the survey through June 9, 2009.
- The blue columns refer to all data collected from the first day of the survey through August 1, 2009. Refer to the blue columns for the most complete information.

OVERALL IMPRESSIONS

The Z. Smith Reynolds Library is favorably viewed by its community.

Many questions in the Counting Opinions survey asked participants to rank their answer on a scale of 1-7. Understanding this scale will be helpful in knowing how to interpret the results. Most respondents ranked the library around 6 to 7. A rank of 7 means "strongly agree," and a rank of 6 means "agree."

- I will reuse the services of this library: 6.28
- This library is very important to me: 6.16
- I will recommend the services of this library to others: 6.09
- The quality of library services is very high: 5.9
- I am very satisfied with the services of this library: 5.86
- The services of this library consistently meet or exceed my expectations: 5.68

IMPORTANCE OF THE LIBRARY

Overall it's Good!

Spring 2009
Counting Opinions asked questions to gain understanding of how patrons perceive the service offered by the Z. Smith Reynolds Library. This section is an overview of all the service sections of the survey.

84% of survey respondents said that they used the library weekly or more, and 73% said that they expected to continue to use the library “about the same” amount in the future.

When asked to select all that apply regarding the aspects of services that most impact their satisfaction, top answers included:

- 166 responses for accessible information
- 133 responses for range of services
- 129 responses for conducive environment
- 128 responses for convenient location.

Services, based on the organization of the survey tool, include:

- Loans & Information Desk
- Instructional Services
- Library Electronic Resources
- Online Catalog
- Collections
- Research and Information Desk

---

I am most satisfied with the library electronic resources because I can easily do much of my research away from the library and access full journal articles the vast majority of the time.

—survey respondent
OVER 65% AGREE OR STRONGLY AGREE: THE SERVICES OF THE LIBRARY MEET OR EXCEED MY EXPECTATIONS

ACCESSIBLE INFORMATION IS MOST IMPORTANT, THOUGH OTHER FACTORS ARE CLOSELY TIED FOR SECOND PLACE
In the past year, most of our respondents have borrowed items and contacted a librarian in person.

When asked to check all the services that survey respondents used in the past year, most indicated they had borrowed materials, and 195 people have contacted a librarian in person.

The aspects of service that most impact our users’ satisfaction include sufficient availability of information, but “accessible information” ranked highest with 166 responses.

Respondents were also asked to rate the importance of different desks and their satisfaction. This section relied on the 1-7 ranking system described on page 6. Though only a small number of respondents answered these sections (between 30-40 depending on question) their average responses follow:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Desk</th>
<th>Importance</th>
<th>Satisfaction</th>

Thanks for helping me find books I didn’t see.

–survey respondent
INSTRUCTIONAL SERVICES

It appears that Wake Forest University students do not define “instructional services” in the same terms that the survey creators and library staff do.

In one question, only one respondent said they had used the Library to attend an instructor-led activity. In another, 94 respondents said they had attended instructional sessions. For those who self-identified as having had attended an instruction session, importance and satisfaction ranked similarly. On the scale of 1-7, instructional services were ranked 4.5 in importance and 4.8 in satisfaction.

REASONS FOR USING THE LIBRARY

The library staff is always willing to help with research questions and is always developing new relevant programs.

–survey respondent
LIBRARY RESOURCES

Most survey respondents use electronic resources and have accessed library information remotely.

In the past year, most respondents have located information without assistance. Following this, they have found information remotely and found information using a PC. In addition to this, 176 survey responses indicated that participants had accessed the Internet while in the Library.

With nearly a point difference on the 1-7 scale, users said that electronic resources had an importance of 6.62 but only ranked satisfaction at 5.78.

Participants said that the general collections had an importance rating of 6.28 and a satisfaction rating of 5.6.

SPECIFIC QUESTION BEING ANSWERED IN THE GRAPHIC

![Graph showing information finding methods and satisfaction]

I am most satisfied with the range of electronic databases available.
–survey respondent

I value the extensive collection of academic tools.
–survey respondent
Overwhelmingly, survey respondents said they had contacted a reference librarian in person.

Of all possible methods of contacting a librarian, 47% respondents indicated a preference for face-to-face communication. It might also be useful to note that 14% of respondents indicated that the availability of assistance when required most impacts their satisfaction.

On the 1-7 scale, survey respondents said the Reference Desk had an importance rating of 5.72, and a satisfaction rating of 5.82.

I value the knowledgeable and helpful librarians.
–survey respondent
The staff have a friendly and professional attitude.

–survey respondent

I find all of the staff members to be helpful when I ask a question. They are friendly and courteous.

–survey respondent

Counting Opinions asked questions to gain understanding of how patrons perceive the staff of the Z. Smith Reynolds Library. This section is an overview of all the staff sections of the survey.

73% of survey respondents said that they have requested assistance of a library staff member, and 57% said that they were met, greeted, or contacted by a library staff member when using the Z. Smith Reynolds Library.
FACILITIES

Counting Opinions asked questions to gain understanding of how patrons perceive the facilities of the Z. Smith Reynolds Library. This section is an overview of all the facilities sections of the survey.

Participants rated hours highest in both importance and satisfaction, with a score of 6.52 for importance and a 6.28 for hours. The largest discrepancy between importance and satisfaction was in parking, which received a 5.02 importance rating and a 3.78 satisfaction rating.

Services, for the purposes of this report, include:

- Restrooms
- Parking
- Accessibility
- Hours of access and operation
- Safety
- Library building
- Remote access facilities
- Seating/Workspace

I am least satisfied with the availability of places to work at a table with an outlet nearby.

–survey respondent
Survey respondents indicated an importance of 5.91 for library restrooms, and a satisfaction rating of 5.68.

I am least satisfied with the bathrooms... they are disgusting.
–survey respondent

Restrooms are always clean!
–survey respondent
Survey respondents indicated an importance of 5.02 for parking, and a satisfaction rating of 3.78. This topic had the highest discrepancy between importance and satisfaction scores.

I am least satisfied with the lack of parking...I know that’s not the library’s fault.
–survey respondent

I’d like 5-minute parking spaces in the front of the library.
–survey respondent
Survey respondents indicated an importance of 6.52 for hours of access and operation, and a satisfaction rating of 6.28.

It’s WONDERFUL that it’s now open 24/7 5 days a week. Would be great if it never closed, honestly.

–survey respondent
SAFETY

- Survey respondents indicated an importance of 5.78 for facilities for personal safety, and a satisfaction rating of 5.2.

- Survey respondents indicated an importance of 5.44 for “facilities for security of personal belongings,” and a satisfaction rating of 4.78.

- Survey respondents indicated an importance of 5.34 for “facilities for security of library materials and property,” and a satisfaction rating of 5.3.

I am most satisfied with Cindy, the evening security guard.

–survey respondent

Investigate the lighting around the library. I really like bright lighting.

–survey respondent

There is no where to park near the library.

–survey respondent

---

I don’t know of any place to put my belongings safely when I need to walk away. –survey respondent
Most respondents indicated that they primarily use the Library on campus, to research or study alone.

79% of respondents use the Library primarily on campus, and 20% primarily use it remotely. When prompted to indicate all the reasons for using the Library, 24% of responses were to study alone, 18% were to study as a group, and 9% were to attend a meeting or event.

Many questions asked participants to indicate all the answers that apply for the past year. For the following, you will see both the total responses given for a specific question and the percentage of responses for a given topic.

Survey participants indicated an importance rating of 6.08 for the building, and a satisfaction rating of 6.1.

There are a plethora of different places to work varying in noise level and set up. I like it because I can always find somewhere to work that suits the area I desire to focus in.

—Survey respondent
REMOTE ACCESS

Survey respondents indicated satisfaction for remote access to the Library, though they did not indicate a preference for virtual reference.

152 participants indicated that, in the past year, they have found information by accessing the Library's online system from a location other than the Library.

Participants indicated an importance of 6.38 for accessing the Library from a remote location, and a 6.27 satisfaction score.

Another method of remotely accessing the Library is through virtual reference. Counting Opinions addressed this in two different ways. First, asking how users preferred to receive reference assistance, and then asking participants all the different ways they have used reference in the past year. Both of these answers are below:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Method of communication</th>
<th>Percentage of respondents that prefer this method</th>

I like the wide range of services available and their excellent quality. It is very convenient to be all the way back in my dorm and still be able to access all of the information I need and even contact a librarian.

–survey respondent
Most responded that they use the library to study alone and study as a group.

196 responded that they had used the Library's facilities in the past year. Further, when asked to list all the reasons for using the Library, there were 177 responses for studying alone, 130 responses for group study, 67 responses for meetings and events, and 50 responses for recreation and social reasons.

The Starbucks took lots of study space. My favorite study space in Government Documents was removed for very small inefficient tables. There are way too many chairs in the new study rooms that are not conducive for studying. Overall, there is never enough study space during the evenings.

– survey respondent

---

Love the Starbucks!

– survey respondent

---

The entire Library should look like the Rare Books room and the 5th floor, not a trendy montage of strange furniture.

– survey respondent

---

Love the Starbucks!

– survey respondent
Counting Opinions asked questions to gain to compare how respondents felt about the library compared to the Internet. This section is an overview of all the Internet sections of the survey.

223 participants indicated that they had used information available from the Internet in the past year.

222 participants indicated that they had used the Library to find information in the past year. 34% indicated that the Library provides "much higher value."

I'm dissatisfied with the collection quality and completeness in my field.

–survey respondent
Counting Opinions asked questions to gain understanding of how patrons perceive the equipment of the Z. Smith Reynolds Library. This section is an overview of all the equipment sections of the survey.

158 participants indicated that they had used the Library’s equipment in the past year.

Equipment, for the purposes of this report, include:

- Computers
- Website, proxy servers
- Printers
- Copiers
- Multimedia lab

---

New printers always seem to be down!

–survey respondent

---

New printers have a lot of potential.

–survey respondent
Respondents rated library computer workstations as having an importance rating of 5.09 and a satisfaction rating of 5.56.

I am dissatisfied with the listening/viewing stations. It seems like everyone is watching you.
–survey respondent

I like the computers in the ITC.
–survey respondent
190 indicated that they had accessed electronic databases in the past year.

Easily navigated connections to “WFU full text options” help to get my hands on materials fast.
–survey respondent

Your website is hard to navigate making it almost impossible to access all available resources.
–survey respondent
Counting Opinions asked questions to gain understanding of how patrons perceive the policies of the Z. Smith Reynolds Library. This section is an overview of all the policies sections of the survey.

Policies, for the purposes of this report, include:

- Fines/Fees
- Holds/Renewals
- Enforcement
- Lending
- Off site
- Interlibrary Loan

---

I like that you have a policy for lending to spouses of faculty.

--survey respondent

---

I particularly like the ability to renew books online without bringing them back to the library.

--survey respondent
FINES/FEES

Respondents indicated that fines and fees have an importance rating of 5.17 and a satisfaction rating of 5.63.

I am least satisfied with late fees on DVDs. –survey respondent

I like the overdue fines on DVDs. The DVDs are more likely to be in stock. –survey respondent

I most like the reserve system, 1 year faculty loan, and ILL.
–survey respondent

I don’t understand ILL. The website is not very helpful.
–survey respondent

Respondents indicated an importance rating of 4.77 for access to restricted or limited-use facilities, equipment, information or other services, and a satisfaction rating of 4.97.

I don’t like the movement of journals to an off site location. –survey respondent
